3. Consideration of Reports and Recommendations

a) Environment - The exemption process for the continuation of pre paid refuse and recycling bags for householders in 2017.

B Moloney outlined details of revised food waste regulations introduced in July 2016 for towns / villages with a population in excess of 500 for householders to separate out food from their general refuse. She advised that there are 17 areas in Kilkenny affected by these regulations. Regarding pre – paid refuse and pre-paid recycling bags, Kilkenny County Council were successful in obtaining an extension to extend the period for the continued use of bags until December 2016 to allow customers to run down their current stock and seek an alternative collection service if required. The Council is currently running an exemption scheme for households that have no bin storage on their property or access to a suitable collection service. Details of exemptions available which are currently being advertised were outlined. A conversation ensued on various aspects of implementation of the regulations including:

- Increased cost to consumer
- Customers inability to pay additional costs
- Elderly peoples difficulty to handle heavy bin
- Need for contractors to come on board
- Exemptions obtained no guarantee contractor will collect bags
- Possibility of increased dumping as a result of increased costs
- Smells / odours and how often brown bin would be collected
- End use of product collected in brown bin.
- Consumers not aware of their revised responsibility
- Need for more information about home recycling
- Possibility of implementing brown bin in estate in North Kilkenny on pilot basis prior to Christmas.

Members agreed that in light of the many uncertainties which exists around implementation of food waste regulations that the next SPC meeting would be open to all members to discuss this issue and if agenda for next SPC meeting is already full, that a special meeting would be held.

B Moloney was thanked for presentation provided and withdrew from the meeting.
